Retired Lladro Games

1,942 Retired Lladro Figurines – Total Market Value Exceeds $1,380,890.00

Over the years Lladro has made porcelain figurines in every conceivable theme. This is the season for fair weather sports, day dreaming and playful animals. In 1982 Lladro introduced the Sports Billy Series including a Baseball Player, a Golfer, a Skier, a Football Player and even a female Soccer Player. Well, we've got 'em all.... For the more delicate among us who opt not to perspire or to get our hands dirty, we have included #L-5272M Biking in the Country and #L-5143G Country Girl with Motorcycle.

Yes, we have featured the painful animals before but they sell out so quickly that they are back again by popular demand. These pieces were made for four years but never sold in the United States except, mysteriously, for #L-5020G Painful Elephant which appeared in the 1979 U.S. Price List and only for just that one year? #L-5018G Painful Monkey has his foot in a cast, #L-5019G Painful Giraffe has a sore throat and a bad cold, #L-5020G Painful Elephant has an injured left foot, #L-5021G Painful Bear has a bandaged paw, #L-5022G Painful Lion has a toothache and somebody stepped on #L-5023G Painful Kangaroo's tail. These pieces are very hard to find and are all pictured on the Backcover. Buy one or treat yourself to the whole set !

Springtime, summer time, brings to mind #L-1411G Daydreamer (pictured here). In 1982, Lladro reproduced seven of Norman Rockwell's famous paintings in figurine form. All seven pieces are pictured on the inside Backcover. These figurines were to be Limited Editions of 5,000 each but during the early years, the public appeared to find these pieces to be too expensive for the average collector. Therefore, sales were very slow and it is suspected that less than 5,000 piece of each figurine were ever made. In the past, Lladro has never cataloged "special collections" but has recently added the Norman Rockwell series to the 1998 Edition of The Authorized Reference Guide (copies available at your local dealer for $19.95 each)
